TO THE UNFORTUNATE

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, COR. COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness Impotency the Sad Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid affection thousands suffer until death obloses the scene. Let parents, guardians or seminal tend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case without resort to any injurious drugs. This is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends. Be careful of the many pretended doctors who thrust all other publishing cards in your face and disappear in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of exploit and physicians from European other places. Be therefore careful and make the manner you may fall into the hands of these physicians

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse, this solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by half the population to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, combined to by scientific medical measures, viz.—Dew commences, dark spots before the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots unconscious of the loins, weakness of the limbs confused vision, diminished intensity of sensibility, difficulties approaching strangers, aversion to company, acidity, dyspepsia, disposition to shun society fits of melancholy, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, blurred eyesight, head ache, coughs, consumption, nightsweats monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter to DR. GIBBON a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give the Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of the complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, or delay to obtain the needful relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Caution to the Unfortunate

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are impudent scamps and have no way to work at their trades. Some are firemiths shoemakers sewing carriers intelligence office keepers etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—if will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets. for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of nine are bogus there is safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting boxes, certificates pretended patients letters, &c. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who call at his office as to his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure

A Dog's Long Journey Home.—The Cincinnati Commercial asserts that although the following story is not sworn to before a Justice of the Peace it is strictly true

In August 1872, Mr Grauel, the venerable gardener of Lurz Anderson, Esq., and Mr Anderson's son, Charles, were on a prairie chicken hunt in the neighborhood of Shelton Ill They had along with them Mr Grauel's favorite imported dog Maxy During a hot thirsty tramp one day when the stock of water with the party had been exhausted, the dog was overcome with heat and fatigue Poor Maxy was left for dead on the prame after the body had been covered with freshly-plucked grass and other suitable funeral rites had been performed On the following day the hunters passed that way and out of sympathy visited the grave of the dog The body had disappeared The suspicion was aroused that, mayhap the burial was a premature one, and accordingly a search for Maxy was made but without success The hunters lingered in the vicinity for several days and under an offer of a liberal reward village boys scoured the prairie for the body of the missing beast, though in vain, and the unfortunate fellow was given up for gone On Wednesday last who but Maxy himself should run into Mr Grauel's house, in this city and greet Mrs Grauel in the same old friendly manner But he was tottering on his feet and seemed sorely battered and aged and thin in flesh He gave no history of his travels or how he had spent the three years away, or how he had traced his course for about 300 miles to the old home of his master and mistress Truly, the good old dog received a hearty welcome from the venerable man and wife who looked upon Maxy as a great pet But sorry to say the dog seems to have come home to die and probably despite the best attentions will survive only a short time

A Man Who Didn't Have Much to Do With the Last War.—President Grant a few days ago, having glanced at Sherman's Memoirs, said that so far as he had read he found the statements in the book accurate and just in the main Having read further and obtained more correct idea he is now moved to criticise the Memoirs in his usual sententious vein thus Well I am beginning to find out that I didn't have much to do with the last war We can imagine that Grant looked quizzical when he said it and that Sherman will feel the up when he hears of it.—Chicago Tribune

The next Senatorial contest in Michigan promises to be as lively as the one of last fall Zack Chandler and Gov Bagley aspire to Mr Terry's seat and Mr Ferry is in the hands of his friends and as all wise Providence for another term

IDAHO TERRITORIES.

Five policemen are expected to keep Olympia in order on celebration day

A large number of prospectors left Olympia last week, for the Chehalis mountains

The wife of Mr John Metcalf died suddenly of heart disease at Gray's Harbor, last week

Arthur Vowell Esq has received the appointment of collector of customs at Burrard Inlet vice Mr Brew

A bar has formed in the channel of the Nisqually river at the ferry on the Steilacoom road which very seriously interferes with crossing except at high tide

Halibut fishing is at its hight at Neah Bay and the Indians are having very good luck, some of them catching forty or fifty a day, which they cure for winter food

The Dispatch says Seattle is infested with a gang of unprincipled scoundrels who make their living by preying on the unwary immigrants who are constantly arriving

Mr Charles Prosch of the Tribune, was presented with a fine Waltham watch by the congregation of St. Peter's chapel in Tacoma on the eve of his departure for Seattle

Low rates of fare on the Sound are such that it is almost as cheap to travel as to stay at home The result is that the boats are crowded Last Wednesday, on the up trip of the North Pacific, she had nearly 100 passengers between Port Townsend and Seattle, and the Favorite was also full

The wreckers of the ill fated ship Pelicano, at Neah Bay have completed their work, the last load having been taken away last week and she was set on fire and burned to the waters edge for the purpose of obtaining the iron knees, of which she had a large number

A number of persons arrived recently from the east and are stopping temporarily on Yelm Prairie, W T They are looking for government lands upon which to locate under the homestead law Some of them have found employment on farms in the neighborhood and will examine the country thoroughly before locating permanently

The Boise Statesman of last week says Margaret Dougherty and Nancy Brown engaged in acts of theft here the past winter, having been charged with no respectable character Bail was declared forfeited in the case of Mrs Brown and the money left by Mrs Dougherty as surety for her appearance ordered to be paid over to the county treasury making in all the sum of $800

The Olympia Transcript says 'During the past week a committee of our citizens was engaged in ascertaining the nearest and most practical location for a wharf, suitable at any stage of the tide for either deep or light draught vessels. The result of the land and water survey consisted in the location of the same on Mr Conrad Schmitz's beach on the west side of the bay and about seven hundreds yards this side of Brown's wharf'

The Olympia Farmer says From many portions of the Sound country we hear that in consequence of the long-continued cold and rainy weather, crops are coming forward very slowly In several localities oats have just been sowed, but all kinds of grain look well, with indications of a good yield, if the weather settles and the sun shines enough to ripen it Grass on the uplands and prairies is doing exceedingly well generally, while on the bottoms and low lands it is not so advanced as is usual at this season of the year The average, on the whole, will fully meet expectations

A hop yard has been injured in Puyallup valley by worms, the Transcript says, which stripped the leaves from the vines of about half of the yard within two days. This is unquestionably the common cut worm, which are usually most abundant in wet seasons like the present and can be found in our gardens here, yet doing little damage Our informant tells us that the hop yard in question was planted on ground where an old barn had stood for years which no doubt accounted for the great numbers of the worms in that particular place, for by close examination the presence of the worms could be detected in other yards although showing invisible damage yet some of the hop growers have taken the precaution to hunt the dreaded customer and destroy them They are found during the day just under the surface, near the hop hill

The business prospects of the Sound country are better to-day says the Courier, than they have been since the railroad excitement subsided The leading industries are prospering to an unusual degree The lumber mills are driven to their utmost capacity At Seattle Usualde Hosts Blakeley, Madison and Hall low vessels of large and small degrees are in all stages of construction The coal mines of Whatcom and Seattle are turning out the black diamonds at the rate of about 12,000 tons per month and this will be increased monthly as the mines now opened increase their out put and other mines are opened, of which latter it is likely there will be three or four this summer Immigration is flowing steadily in and all new comers readily find work at remunerative rates The farmers have found quick sales at good prices for their productions and have every promise of the same for the present season.

GREEN VALLEY, Eldorado Co Cal, June 17, 1875

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Now that I have again after the lapse of a quarter of a century, been permitted to look upon the places that used to look familiar, I hardly know what to write These twenty-five eventful years to other parts of the world, have not been slow to operate here The change is so great that hardly a tree, hill or valley can be recognized The spots where the miner's cabin stood in 49 is only indicated by the heap of stone overgrown with grass and nearly buried of which the chimney was built Not a single house have I yet seen that was built then Familiar faces have likewise passed away None are left How sad it is to contemplate so much Shall I call it desolation? No, for the valleys teem with the fruits of the labor of the husbandman vine orchards gardens, fields of grain comfortable and sometimes costly residences school houses and churches The canyons gulches and many flats as they are called have been deprived of their treasures The hills have been dug down The rivers and small streams have been deprived of their natural channels so that they are not a shadow of their former selves and now instead of pure and sparkling water they flow with liquid mud, literally Flowing at the rate they do how long will it take for this land to pass into and become a part of the Pacific ocean? In many cases the debris has been taken into the valley and soon the channel of the stream filled and is now spreading ruin far and wide Many valuable farms have been in this way covered up and still the work goes on I have seen where large streams have lost all trace of their course and the water or rather mud is now wandering through the valleys constantly changing, and to accomplish all this many valuable lives have been offered up how many hope it shall end and what an amount of labor is beyond computation

MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 28, 1875.

ABOUT THE SUPPORT OF NEWSPAPERS.

The party organs have a habit of referring to independent journals in language indicating a supposition that in order to have any secure basis of business prosperity a paper must have the backing of party patronage. A little reflection, it would seem, ought to enable any one to see that such a view can not be correct, as a paper that is, in fact, independent, treating all questions as nearly justly as human prejudices will permit, must in the nature of things command the confidence of the intelligent masses to a greater degree than would be possible to a partisan journal, which, like an attorney, is expected to advocate its own party, and not to give its readers both sides of all questions. People shun a neutral paper, because every one knows that a paper that takes no side on live public questions, is either conducted by a man who feels no interest in the public good, or else it is a sham and a fraud. It is natural to be opposed to all neutrals, whether of man, beast or newspaper. But the independent paper, which takes one side or the other on all public questions, but takes sides upon the individual judgment of the conductor of it, without regard to what any party organization may think or wish, will naturally be expected to state all the facts in any given case, so those who dissent from its conclusions will nevertheless rely on its statements of facts, and will prize it for that reason. Such a journal suffers nothing from the vicissitudes of party fortune. Having no party patronage to balance its ledger with, neither has it any time of famine when the people vote any particular party out of power. The basis of its prosperity is the bona fide support of the public, and it is of little importance to its financial department whether this party or that is in the ascendancy. As its course before an election is uninfluenced by the prospect of financial gain or loss from the result of partisan contests, so its resources are uninfluenced by that result when the contest is ended.

Thus would one reason a priori. But it is not necessary to rely upon such reasoning alone to demonstrate the advantage which an independent position gives a journal. A dispatch this morning tells of the prosperity of the Chicago Times, one of the most thoroughly independent papers in the United States. Pressure on its columns makes it necessary for its proprietors to bring it out in a form that will enable them to give a greater amount of advertising room.

A little while ago the Chicago Tribune, which had been an independent journal under the management of Mr. Horace White, passed into the hands of Mr. Joseph Medill, one of the most accomplished editors of America, who wheeled it into line as a straight-out Republican organ. In less than a week it had several columns of government advertising, and everything looked bright. But in a month or two Mr. Medill himself made it an independent paper. He discovered, evidently, that the patronage of the party was not an adequate compensation for the loss in confidence and patronage of the public which the change involved.

Ever since the N. Y. Tribune planted itself on the high ground of independence it has been a habit of the party organs to dilate, frequently and at short intervals, on the decline of that great journal, and to declare the party papers of New York had practically supplanted it. The best answer in the world to all that is furnished by the Republican postmaster of New York City. The following figures are from his official report to the Postmaster General, giving the amount of postage paid by each paper in the month of January, 1875, on its regular editions, sent from the New York postoffice to its regular subscribers:

	Pounds at annual rates to regular subscribers.	Postage paid.
Tribune	70,330	$1,426 60
Herald	27,614	552 28
Times	12,916	858 52
World	23,640	472 80

It will be seen, therefore, that the circulation of the Tribune through the mails is greater than that of the Herald and Times combined, or that of the World and Times combined, and almost as great as that of all three of these other morning papers combined.

A MATTER FOR EVERY INDIVIDUAL.

The subject of Home Manufacturing has lately been discussed in the OREGONIAN in all its most important bearings, and it has been shown, conclusively we think, that the benefits accruing to society from the building up of manufactories, are greater than can be secured by any other manner of investing capital. It has also been shown that, counting all the various ways in which such investments bring profit, they are as safe, and as likely to yield satisfactory returns to the capitalist as anything he can put his money into, not excepting even lending at ordinary rates.

But all this implies that home manufactories shall have a preference with home consumers. It implies, in other words, that if any article wanted for use here can be obtained from our own manufacturers at about as low rate as the similar imported article, it shall be bought from the home manufacturer. It implies that if Oregon made cloth can be purchased as cheaply as cloth of similar quality from abroad, the Oregon cloth shall be worn instead of the imported. It implies that if Oregon oak and ash make as good ax handles and plough stocks and wagon wheels and agricultural implements generally, as Eastern oak, ash and hickory, there should be none of the Eastern article used, so long as the Oregon make could be obtained at the same prices. It implies that chairs and tables and desks and bedsteads, etc., of Oregon make should supplant all imported furniture.

But, how is this to be brought about? How are the people of Oregon to be got into the habit of patronizing home manufactures? That is a question of importance, but there is only one answer possible, and that is a plain one. It is a matter for every individual to engage in for himself. It is for you, reader of this article, and you, and you. If you wait, in a matter of this sort, for some universal movement of the body-social, you will wait till the end of time. The individual member of the community should feel himself called upon to act independently of what his neighbor may think or do. The Oregon farmer, merchant, lawyer, doctor, minister—every one—should make it a matter of his own. Drive an Oregon-made wagon, and your neighbor will naturally do likewise when he sees your wagon is a good one. Wear Oregon-made clothing, for its reputation is already established. Let this be the rule all round. The habits of a community are only the habits of its individuals. Bear this in mind, and while you are regretting that your rich neighbor lacks the enterprise to launch into the building up of manufactures, ask yourself whether you are giving your patronage to the manufacturing establishments that have already been established around you, and if you are not doing so, begin at once.

NO VERDICT.

To all appearances the Beecher jury have before them the prospect of a considerable extension of their term of service. Possibly a juror who has heard all the evidence in the case, and had the benefit of all the explanations that counsel and the judge could afford him, may change his mind after forty-eight hours deliberation; but the chances are against it. The mind that has been made up in this manner is hardly likely to be converted to the contrary view by what may be said in the jury room, especially when the conversion has not come with the first re-examination of the case after the jury has retired.

There is a feature of this case already developed which can not but have a powerful influence upon the public mind, whatever may be the verdict, if a verdict be rendered. Tilton went into the case staggering under a weight of popular prejudice such as few men ever had to carry, on account of his course in making the scandal public after condoning his wife's fault and living with her in the marital relation nearly four years subsequent to the discovery of her alleged unfaithfulness; and also on account of his own reputed uncleanness. Beecher went into the case under circumstances exactly the opposite so far as popular sympathy was concerned, and backed up by the most powerful lobby ever organized to influence the proceedings of a court of justice.

And yet the case goes not speedily to a verdict against Tilton. It hangs fire. The power of the great character of the defendant, and the leaden weight of the plaintiff's character, are insufficient, when combined, to scatter the accusation and the evidence in support of it to the winds, as every Christian in the land would wish to see them scattered. This tardiness of the jury, under all these circumstances, can not fail to be regarded by all thoughtful people as something altogether inconsistent with the theory that the innocence of the defendant is at all clear.

Already there is some expression of opinion, says the N. Y. Tribune, against a repetition by the Liberals of the tactics pursued by them in that State last year. The Saratoga Sentinel wants the Liberals to nominate a ticket, and says: "We trust a different management will be had from last year and a full ticket be placed early in the field, the candidates selected with care for their ability and integrity, so that voters who cannot conscientiously support the nominees of either of the other parties may, by voting for this third ticket, effectively enter their protest against the wrong-doings of the leading parties. The tendency of such a third ticket would be to render both the other parties more circumspect in their conduct, and introduce a better element into the canvass. Let us by all means have an early convention and a ticket made up as above, and the organization can be maintained with honor and credit."

The Albany (N. Y.) Express, Republican, says: "If honest expressions of opinion are to be construed as 'disloyalty' to party, simply because they happen to differ from the administration view, then we believe a majority of the widest circulated and most influential portion of the Republican press must be read out of the party. In these days attempts to muzzle the press by holding the party lash over it, are not likely to prove altogether successful.

John Morrissey has been expelled from the Tammany Society for disloyalty to the organization. John says he will organize a club now that will supplant Tammany. It would be a blessing to the whole country if the baleful influence of Tammany Hall could be eliminated from New York politics; but we opine there will be no indecent haste in the transfer of public confidence to any club that John Morrissey may get up.

A communication signed "A Hospital Steward, U. S. Navy," which is proper enough in itself, must go to the waste basket for want of the true name of the writer. The author of an article of the nature of the one referred to should write over his own signature; but if he chooses not to do so, he must at least give the editor information who he is, with authority to use his name in case it should be necessary.

Don Carlos has bestowed upon his son the title of Prince of Asturias. The lad is perhaps as much Prince of Asturias as the enterprising Carlos is king of Spain, and it appears by no means improbable that between the energy and industry of the rebel chieftain and the inefficiency of Alfonso, both titles may be made good.

THE CAMPAIGN OPENED

The Headquarters of both political parties have again by common consent been established at ISAAC BLUM'S Store, which he has elegantly refitted to meet the requirements of the occasion. This place has became the recognized resort of connoisseurs, who pride themselves on the fact that they smoke Blum's Cigars and pay for them.

This card is published for the information of strangers. It is therefore well for visitors from various parts of the State and abroad, as well as San Francisco drammers and such like, to bear this in mind and act accordingly.

Parties desiring Imported Havanas or Key West Cigars by the box will please call before the present invoice is disposed of. An unusually fine lot of special Domestic Brands on hand.

MINING NEWS.—From Mr. J. P. Goodall, who arrived on the steamer California from Victoria, we learn the following news: [illegible] the Cassiar mines: A new creek has been discovered emptying into McDanes or [illegible]ger's creek, which prospects from twenty cents to two dollars to the pan. Many miners are leaving Dease creek on account of the water, and are going down to the new discovery. They will remain at the new discovery until the water falls in Dease creek so that they can be worked. Few men have their claims on Dease creek, and those who are now working on Dease creek are doing quite well. Others are engaged in mining are doing quite well, although a number of them have been washed out by high water. The Stickeen river is very high now, and every creek in the upper country is overflowing. The first bridge on Moore's trail, leading into the mines, has been carried away, and the second bridge is in an unsafe condition. Many of the trails are muddy and travel is bad. The season is at least six weeks behind last year. The season is at least six weeks behind last year. Notwithstanding that fact the miners are generally in good spirits and doing well. Good health prevails; but two men have been brought down sick thus far. At present season, Provisions are very reasonable this year, and miners have a good opportunity to prospect the country. There is plenty of trains, and the means of transportation are good, so that miners can obtain [illegible] and provisions without difficulty. Mooney's new boat Gertrude reached Telegraph creek on the last trip, about twelve miles higher than any boat succeeded last season.

PASSENGERS COMING.—The O. S. S. C. steamer J. L. Stephens sailed from San Francisco for Portland Saturday morning, having the following passengers: Col. Babbit and family, Mrs. T. PICNICS.

Next Sunday the Turners propose to hold a picnic at Canyon Garden the proceeds of which are to be applied to the building fund Odd Fellows, Holders of badges of the picnic season May 30th will be admitted on presenting the same at the gate

One of the most thoroughly enjoyable events of the season, in the picnic line came off on Saturday at Aurora At an early hour on the morning of that day the pupils connected with the First Unitarian Sunday school together with teachers, parents and friends took the train for the pleasant and shady grove in Butchtown Four hundred people, it is estimated, attended the picnic. After leaving the cars, the excursionists wended their way to the park. Several hours were spent in the most agreeable manner, divided between strolling through the shady woods, gathering flowers and strawberries, lunching and other pleasant diversions About the middle of the afternoon the picnickers took the down train for Lome, and arrived here at 4 o clock tired with the pleasures, excitements and fatigue of the day, but well satisfied with what had been seen, heard and enjoyed

The strains of music heard early yesterday morning at the Stark street ferry appeared the public that a picnic was to be held in Ladd's Portland Park for the benefit of the school connected with the congregation of Rev Mr Shotwell Soon crowds of men, women and children were pouring along the streets from the three cardinal points of the compass and heading toward a common rendezvous—the Park. During the day many fun loving visited that place and passed several hours in an agreeable manner At the Park every arrangement was made for the enjoyment of those who attended A large circular platform, propelled by horse-power, was in motion most of the day and constituted one of the principal features of amusement Besides the circular swing, there were a number of the other kind, which were also kept constantly in motion to the unceasing gratification of the little folks Refreshments in abundance were provided and the inner man was not neglected An excellent entertainment was furnished by the Portland City Band and dancing on the large platform was freely indulged in by all late in the afternoon the excursionists came to the city Unanimity and in other respects the affair was as successful as could have been desired

PERSONAL.

Fred Hofman returned on the steamer from Oakland, Cal, where he has been attending college

Mr Paul Richter who has been engaged in business in this city for many years has disposed of his interests and accepted a position with Mr Hellman in Calaveras City for which place he started on Saturday His friends and they are legion will be pleased to hear of his success in the new field of labor he has chosen

Capt Rose Interstate of June 22d Says James K Kelly of Oregon arrived here yesterday from Portland State from Washington, on his way to Oregon and will leave for home until this afternoon at 5 o'clock He is stopping at the Overland We had a few moments conversation with him in regard to matters but as he soon left to stop over we shall be able to secure information he may communicate to us at our next issue The Senator is looking remarkably well and is as sociable and genial as he used to be

It is an historical axiom that revolutions never go backward Just so with the celebrated "Polar Soda Water at Pfunder's Gem Pharmacy that pleasant beverage making steady progress among all

Through the courtesy of Mr Goodhue purser of the steamer California we have been furnished with the following memoranda of its last trip to Sitka and return

California arrived at Victoria June 3d received on board Gen O O Howard commanding the Department of the Columbia and Aids-de-camp together with the officers of his staff and left June 4th Called at Nanaimo for coal and left June 5th Arrived at Fort Wrangel 8th discharged 50 head of mules 100 head sheep and about 40 tons of freight Laid at Wrangel two days During our stay at Wrangel Capt John Irving of the steamer Glenora kindly tendered the use of his steamer to the General and his officers for a trip to the boundary line on the Stickeen river That they might have the opportunity of seeing the noted glacier, which offer was accepted with many thanks and well wishes for the hospitable Captain and his gallant little steamer Left Wrangel on the evening of the 9th sailed in at Shakan and arrived at Sitka on the evening of the 10th Laid at Sitka four days awaiting a general court martial convened at that port per order from headquarters of the department Left Sitka June 15th called in at Kootanoo This island is noted for the manufacture of an article called Keechinoo a liquor which has become almost universal beverage throughout Alaska both among the whites and Indians A man by the name of Griffith or better known in the upper country as Grif died at Kootanoo, the morning of our arrival From here we proceeded on to Chilcat and arrived there on the morning of the 16th We laid there all day to give the General an opportunity to visit the Chilcat Indians whose ranch is situated at the mouth of the Chilcat river Left Chilcat on evening of the 16th called in on our way down at Lake, Sam Dan Cluks, and Kake to give the general an opportunity to visit the Indians located at these different points The general did not find many of the Indians at their ranches as most of them were out hunting and fishing On leaving Sitka we took on board Major Campbell the commanding officer of Sitka who accompanied General Howard on his tour of inspection returned to Kootanoo on the 18th for the purpose of meeting the steamer Ewa which was ordered there from Sitka to meet Major Campbell and take him back to his post

Left Kootanoo on the evening of the 18th arrived at Wrangel on the 19th stopped only three hours On our way down we passed by Tongas and arrived at Fort Simpson on the 20th This being Sunday, Gen Howard together with his officers officers of the steamer and passengers, went on shore to church On our landing at Simpson we were met by the Rev Mr Crosby who treated us with great courtesy and invited us to his house which invitation many of us accepted At about 10 o clock in the morning the first bell rang for church At 11 the second bell rang and then we noticed nearly all the Indians leaving their homes and wending their way to church all both old and young well dressed hair combed and clean faces which were in striking contrast with those we had visited in Alaska The services are held in one of the larger Indian houses until their church can be finished which is now under course of erection Gen Howard and officers, together with most of the passengers, attended church and were greatly pleased to see so much order and attention as well as devotion shown in their house of worship by the Indians of Fort Simpson On entering the church we were met at the door by their pastor, the Rev Mr Crosby of the Methodist Mission, and his accomplished and estimable young wife to whom too much praise cannot be given for the great change for the better that has been brought about by them in the past eleven months with the Indians at Fort Simpson Whilst in church we were greatly astonished at the cleverness of the interpreter, an Indian woman, who interpreted Rev Mr Crosby's sermon word by word to the Indians throughout the whole service without any difficulty At the conclusion of the services on invitation from Mr Crosby, Gen Howard made a few remarks and offered up a prayer The general was greatly pleased with his visit to Fort Simpson, and was heard to say that he would not have missed going there and seeing for himself the great changes that can be brought about by the simple preaching and teaching of the Gospel among the Northern Indians

Left Fort Simpson 20th at 1 30 P M arrived at Seymour Narrows at 9 A M the 22d inst Was forced to drop anchor and wait four hours for change of tide At the Narrows we met the steamer Otter and H M steamer Myrmidon which had been ordered there by Admiral Cochrane to the relief of the officers and crew of the American war steamer Saranac, which vessel struck a rock in the Narrows and sunk on Friday, June 18th Immediately on learning this disastrous news to one of our country's vessels, the captain of the California together with the U S army officers visited the Otter where were most of the officers and crew of the Saranac and tendered them their sympathy and any help that lay in their power At 1 10 P M Her Majesty's steamer Myrmidon weighed anchor and returned to Nanaimo On leaving her anchorage loud expressions of gratitude were shown by the shipwrecked officers and seamen of the Saranac towards the Myrmidon for so quickly coming to their aid and as she steamed slowly by the Otter and Cutter and cheer after cheer rose from the decks of these steamers for her gallant commander, officers and crew

Left the Narrows at 1 30 P M at 4 0 P M met Her Majesty's ship Sapho flagship of Admiral Cochrane also en route with food and provisions for the shipwrecked crew and as our little steamer with flags dipping passed this vessel praises and thanks were freely expressed by our people for the noble command er who so quickly sought to relieve the distressed

Arrived at Nanaimo at 10 30 P M, left Nanaimo at 11 A M the 23d arrived at Victoria at 8 P M

While at Wrangell we were shown the coat sleeve of an United States paymaster that had been found by an Indian and taken from a sloop on that was lashed to a board and washed high and dry upon the shore in Whale Bay Prince of Wales Island, supposed to be the remains of Major Walker United States army who was lost on the Wright A large portion of the clothing was in a decayed condition but the portion shown was in a perfect state of preservation having upon it the insignia of rank and the buttons indicating that it belonged to a paymaster of the United States army The remains were found about forty or fifty miles from where the ill fated Wright was last heard from Upon the remains were found forty dollars seven dollars being in silver a sleeve button and a bunch of keys They were found about one month ago Arrangements have been made with Mr Samuel Funk a trader at Shakan to recover the remains and they will probably be brought down on the California at its next trip

STEAMER CALIFORNIA Gulf of Georgia B C June 22

To Assistant Adjutant General Military Division of the Pacific San Francisco Cal Particulars of the loss of the Saranac have already been forwarded The generosity and promptness of Her Majesty's admiral Cochrane in sending the gunboat Myrmidon to the rescue of the crew has filled Lt Haze to the relief of the wrecked officers and men of the Saranac all the way from Victoria to Seymour Narrows without delay affords a remarkable example to us—an index of friendly feeling and courtesy that I know will receive should occasion offer a ready and hearty return Being on the spot while the Myrmidon was at the Narrows transferring to the steamer Otter a few articles saved from the wreck, and soon after meeting the admiral flagship Sapho en route thither I think it proper to send an appreciative word in keeping with the report of the gallant captain of the Saranac already made The current at the Seymour Narrows was so strong that the Cyane failed to dock this morning

BALL AND BAT.

Saturday afternoon the second game of the series was played between the Young Pacifics and Neptune clubs on the grounds near the foot of Robinson's Hill A spirited contest followed resulting in the defeat of the former club the score standing Young Pacific 19 Neptune, 60

The Pioneers and Arcadians met on the Academy grounds Saturday afternoon for the first time this season and a goodly number of person were present to witness the opening contest The former club presented the following players Joseph Wiley captain and catcher Matthews Barker 1st b Thompson 2d b Snow 3d b Rambo ss s John Keleigh l f Whiting c f Gearin r f On the other side were John Bird pitcher and captain Bassett c Speck s Michler 1st b Cushing l f Oliver c f Wilcox r f Al Sutherland was chosen umpire Matthewman acted as catcher for the Pioneers Snow as umpire from the East Wilcox played in the Arcadians first appearance as catcher Cushing and Rambo are new men on the ball field here and did well in the positions they played The game opened well for the Pioneers but the Arcadians pulled up as usual winning after a three hour contest by 36 to 25 This game does not count as a match but merely an inauguration of the season in a friendly way The boys are hardly in working trim yet and due allowance must be made for weakness on the part of many While the Pioneers want badly as a swift pitcher—one who is capable of watching all the points of the game Another contest may be anticipated in a short time when a much closer game can be counted upon as the players will be in better trim for ball tossing

WILLAMETTE BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

The above association convened at the Dalles on Friday morning, the 25th inst.

From 9 to 10 o'clock was spent in prayer led by Elder Hough. Elder Russ, of McMinnville, though feeling unwell, delivered a most eloquent and stirring sermon from John iii, 13.

W. Carey Johnson, of Oregon City, was elected moderator, D. C. Latourette, secretary and C. E. Bryant, assistant. Letters from the churches were read. The deaths of Rev. Fisher, Robert Kinney, Dean Van Buskirk, and the affliction of Rev. Geo. C. Chandler were feelingly alluded to.

Some discussion then arose about who were delegates, which resulted in changing the constitution so that each church should be entitled to four members and one additional for every twenty-five or fraction over twenty-five.

Adjourned till 2:30 o'clock P. M.

Afternoon Session.

The Union church of Klickitat was received into the association, and the hand of fellowship given. The association then listened to a sermon from Rev. Addison Jones, of Salem, on education. We give a few leading points:

We have no more interest in educating other people's children in Greek and Latin than we have in building steamships, except as it has something to do with the work of God. * * * If it be a fact that we must carry the truth of God to every creature, then how to do it is a leading question. Colleges are very important. Men must not be thrust into the work with dull instruments. The length of time spent by the laborer sharpening his instrument, so far from being lost, may be the most telling hour of the day. God's men are educated, whether they know it or not. The sailor is educated, whether he can write his name or not. Our ministers, that amount to anything, are educated whether college graduates or not. John Bunyan was educated eleven years in Bedford jail. Our pioneers are educated men. They are taught how to make a little money go a long way, and do many things that would discourage others. We must get our education somehow. The times are changing, the people are progressing. The great demand of to-day is for men able to translate Scripture, prepare commentaries and write books; ripe scholars, to cope with the ablest of the age, which is far in advance of former times. It is not now as in former times when men needed great physical strength, but those are the days "when pastors after God's own heart must feed His people with knowledge and understanding." We must educate our sons to do it. Though there are yet places where the uneducated, if pious, can do much good, yet there are "scores of young men possessing talent and giving evidence of a divine call to the ministry, who are disqualified from efficiency by an utter lack of discipline and culture." Now colleges cost money. The professors and students need good fare. As the swift race horse is more delicate and needs more careful care than the rough work horse, so the professor and the student must be cared for, and it will cost money to do it. The race horse denied the proper care loses his speed and breaks down. Our professors are compelled, like some churches, to lub till they sesiars, and then to lift until they see more stars, they will soon be worn out. They must pay their debt if they have to do it at the plow. Our college is thirty-seven hundred dollars in debt; we must get out by asking the rich to pay it off, but if they won't we must do it as the farmer and his boys did in the fable of the large do it ourselves. Some time was then spent in

DISCUSSION.

Dr. Hill spoke at some length on the location, religious influence, finances, etc.

Rev. Jones called for Johnson, Williams, Bailey and others.

W. Carey Johnson—I didn't know they were in debt $37 and needed a new suit so bad; think Mr. Kinney hit the nail on the head when he said "$1,000 debt would do far more harm than $1,000 ahead would do good." Better stop working for an endowment until we get out of debt, etc., etc.

Elder Russ—The debt is nothing to frighten us. It is $1,000 less than one year ago. A farmer is justifiable in running in debt for a team, rather than farm without one, or for seed wheat when the land is prepared. We are sowing for a glorious harvest in the future. It takes just as good food to nourish one as one hundred, and the fodder needs to be just as high for one as for 100. We did not secure our teacher by lineal measure, but by weight. This is not a sinking ship, but it is sailing onward. We have been trying to ship men from the East, but they don't stay shipped, so we are raising up some giants here.

D. W. Williams—I feel a deep interest in the college, that it should be sustained. I will give as God prospers me. We must sustain support our church, and mission labor must be supplied with money. We have a Chinese youth who wants $200 a year to study, and this is as important as any college. He says he loves Jesus and wants to preach Him. I think we must go slow and keep out of debt as much as possible. Our pastor sees things he wants done, and they ought to be done. He says he wants me to hold him, but I can't do it. I am afraid he is doing too much and will break down. Excuse him for not doing outside work more for he is needed at home.

Mr. Baker—Two things are important. First, a good wife; second, a good deacon.

Elder Pierce—I've got them both.

Mr. Baker—We must do one of two things. Either stop this glorious work that Elder Pierce and the Portland church are doing, or have a place to teach these Chinese laborers for the Master's vineyard. There will be 50 of them soon trying to get into the McMinnville college.

Elder Pierce—I do not wish anything to do with colleges till I know how they stand. I am sick of putting money into a bag with holes.

If you want to raise an endowment I am in $100, with interest in advance for two years. Excuse me from old debts.

Mr. Beezley—Shall we repudiate our debts; neglect our children and educate foreigners. I thought in my younger days I ought to talk in public but was prevented because I couldn't get through college. I will give the surplus of my income, so long as I live, to the Lord.

Mr. Kinney—If you and I have money it is no more exempt than the brains of Brother Bailey. We want to pay this debt now, before the school commences next September. I want the debts paid, Brother Beezley, but I have my idea about how they should be paid. Don't ask men to discount salaries.

Brother Moore—We are to have a street meeting in front of the Mount Hood saloon at 15 minutes of seven this evening.

Dr. Hill—The reason we are in debt is because we had to get Prof. Bailey to give the thing a consistency, and having to pay salaries to two teachers for a time. I don't give only one-tenth; I give all I make.

The resolutions passed by the Corvallis and Central Associations, concerning the centennial endowment fund were then unanimously passed, and after accepting the committee's report for street meeting at 7 o'clock, the association adjourned till Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

The Willamette Association having adjourned till Saturday morning, the church called a meeting for dedicating its house of worship, for which a debt of $1,000 had been incurred. Rev. J. C. Baker took the lead of a movement to raise the debt. No one seemed to have any faith except Mr. Baker and Mr. Huff but after a season of preparatory singing, Bro. Baker took the stand and announced that the debt would now be raised, after which a prayer would be offered dedicating the house to God. With perfect quiet he called for subscriptions. J. Beezley started with $300, Crandall $100; three others $50 each; several $25 each. Still the bids came steadily in, and those giving their names for the credit saw the clinching nails being fast driven. At last one old man, impatient at an effort to raise $100, in $5 pieces proposed to fill the column, and gave $90, when it was found $1,100 had been raised. The house is a very pretty one, costing $8,000, and is now free from all incumbrances by the pledges of its friends.

The prospects are that the crops both in the Umpqua and Wallamet valleys will be fully equal to if not in excess of the usual average,

The movements in local monetary circles are not usually active at this period in the year and the current season forms no exception. The spring trade being over and improvements contemplated for the summer well under way, the demand for financial accommodations is now slack, and with an increased supply of loanable capital in the market, the holders of it are hardly satisfied with the slow movement which is taking place, nor is the community at large greatly in better condition than when money was much scarcer than at present. It is hoped, however, that the setting in of the fall trade will bring about a revival in business matters and give a fresher impetus to commercial movements. Should this be so, the advantages of a fair supply of money will be readily seen in the increased strength and permanency, as well as the volume of trade.

The usual amount of retail trade has been carried on to-day, but as usual on Saturdays, there is a lull in the wholesale and jobbing houses. Produce is still coming forward in diminished quantities, except one or two leading articles. Prices show no change to-day from the figures given two days ago.

Miscellaneous.

We learn from State exchanges that a few fields of wheat were far enough along to be lodged some by the late rain, but we apprehend no damage from that source. The crop is everywhere coming on finely.

A new line of ships between San Francisco and Liverpool direct will be inaugurated on the 1st of July by the departure of the Cape Comorin, to be followed on the 1st of August by the City of Bombay, and regularly on the 1st of each month thereafter by first-class vessels. Freight will be taken in lots to suit shippers, and prompt dispatch will be insured by the promoters of the line, who will fill all surplus space with flour.

The ship Friedlander, from New York for San Francisco, which put into Rio prior to March 6th, in a leaky condition, has discharged her cargo, and was undergoing repairs on the 9th of May.

The receipts for duties at New York thus far in June indicates that the total will not much exceed $6,000,000, which is a smaller amount than for any previous month this year. The total for the year ending on the 30th will approximate $197,000,000.

The wool movement began very late in Oregon this year, but the commodity is now coming forward quite rapidly, and nearly 200,000 pounds were sent below on the steamer yesterday.

There is a very good demand for sugar in this market. We are in the midst of the fruit season, when the consumption reaches its maximum. The San Francisco Bulletin says: "A larger portion of the Hawaiian crop will reach this market in a crude condition this year than formerly, under contracts made with one of the refineries. Prices are favorable for a heavy consumption, though the deficiency in some of the fruit crops may interfere with such a realization."

In San Francisco the receipts of wool are 20 per cent. larger than last year, and 60 per cent. larger than 1873. The difference may be safely to indicate the increased production. The most active buying took place between the middle of April and the last of May. The stock on hand is estimated at 8,000 bales. The Boston market is represented at 10 to 15 per cent. lower than at this time last year, and the rate of gold is higher, which combine to check business.

One party purchased 50,000 pounds of wool at Halsey the past week, and at Eugene, Harrisburg, Salem and other points we hear of some important transactions.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship John L. Stephens sailed from San Francisco for Portland at the usual hour to-day.

The steamship California, which arrived from Sitka this morning, brought but little cargo. She will probably sail on her return trip July 1st.

The schooner Oregonian is in the river, and will load at some point below.
